

Think globally, act locally

Worldwide collection of receivables with EOS debiinternational is the reliable solution for your international activities. With EOS' globally well-connected international debt collection services, you can successfully and legally reach your defaulting payers – regardless of the country or language.

Language barriers, cultural differences and different legislation can represent a major challenge for business success especially in the area of receivables management.

Thus, work in tandem with a partner who can serve you locally and at the same time have access to a worldwide network. EOS guarantees both legal knowledge and a sense for local mindsets that is crucial to respectful interaction. You benefit from our local know-how and can rely on our worldwide high quality standard.
